

Cradle host terms — approved alternative B

Document ID: SH-HOST-B-ADOPTION-20260922

Version: 1.0.0

Prepared: September 22, 2026. State: OWNER_APPROVED_DIRECTION; LOCKED within the stated scope on repository acceptance. Conversation authority is not yet repository acceptance.

The owner reviewed the complete prospective host question/proposal and replied: “Adopt B and its common terms”. No exact utterance timestamp was supplied. The structured adoption and execution source pins the reviewed proposal bytes. This records the decision and its delegated fictional implementation; repository acceptance, source availability and prospective activation remain distinct.

Precise scope

Adopt B and all eight common terms of the pinned proposal. Each separately accepted work order lasts at most 90 calendar days. There is no continuous access between orders or automatic renewal. Stream 17 exclusivity applies only to the active designated run/material. Either party may terminate remaining work on 30 calendar days' received written notice. Hosts retain unrestricted safety/environmental stop and bypass rights; there is no feed minimum. Demotte gains no new exclusive grant.

The two separate instruments below incorporate the common terms in full, including commercial receipt-based notice, monthly statement within 20 days and payment of undisputed sums within 30 days of received statement, specified future-order economics, host-local law and nonexclusive courts, capture boundaries, exit accounting and separate execution records. No permanent participation rate or future order economics are inferred from the historic 20% selected-run result.

- Kelly Gang instrument.
- Demotte instrument.

The new fictional representative appointments and mutual execution are authored September 22; they are not recovered signatures or real communications. Framework eligibility begins October 1, 2026, subject to repository acceptance. There are currently zero accepted prospective work orders, so neither instrument grants active deployment access or creates a sale, backlog, payment or funding commitment. Future order creation must provide the concrete economics, scope, interface, authority and received acceptance before operation.

Supersession and preservation

This supersedes only the prospective HOST-R01 term-choice residual and the unapproved alternative A. It does not alter September 6 business canon outside future duration/exclusivity/exit/common terms, establish historic term endpoints, retrospectively change August performance, or cure any failed test. The $60,000 Stream 17 realization/$12,000 host payment and Demotte $18,500 failed test/zero sale remain intact. The frozen September 14 edition is unchanged. New monetary effect is zero. Escrow, bond and unrelated control states are untouched.

Acceptance must be recorded through the repository process and a separately versioned successor. Underlying source status is not a claim that this branch is controlling canon.